

THE FINITE STRING

NEWSLETTER OF THE ASSOCIATION FOR COMPUTATIONAL LINGUISTICS

VOLUME 12 - NUMBER 6

NOVEMBER 1975

This microfiche contains a mixture of bibliographic material a review, some notes, two retrospective bibliographies, and the first of what is expected to be the regular new style of Current Bibliographies; a program designed by Martin Kay, operated on the equipment of the Xerox Palo Alto Research Center does it

AMERICAN JOURNAL OF COMPUTATIONAL LINGUISTICS is published by the Center for Applied Linguistics for the Association for Computational Linguistics.

EDITOR: David G. Hays, Professor of Linguistics and of Computer Science, State University of New York, Buffalo

EDITORIAL ASSISTANT: William Benzon

EDITORIAL ADDRESS Twin Willows, Wanakah, New York 14075

MANAGING EDITOR A. Hood Roberts, Deputy Director, Center for Applied Linguistics

ASSISTANT MANAGING EDITOR: Penny Pickett

PRODUCTION AND SUBSCRIPTION ADDRESS 1611 North Kent Street, Arlington, Virginia 22209

TABLE OF CONTENTS

REVIEW	Computers in the Humanities, edited by J. L. Mitchell, reviewed by Edith J Hols and Dan Burrows . .	3
BIBLIOGRAPHIC NOTES
	Speech Understanding Research Report, SRI	17
	Michigan Early Modern English Materials	18
	Voice Response papers at Comcon 75	19
	NFAIS Reports and Chart	20
NYU LINGUISTIC STRING PROJECT	Bibliography	21
MULTIPLE-VALUED LOGIC:	Proceedings, Table of Contents .	25
ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE IN POLAND	Bibliography 1972-1974	30
CURRENT BIBLIOGRAPHY		38
AFIPS PRESS CATALOG		73